1. [redacted] phoned this date to state that [redacted] and company felt that the process of selecting students for the September [redacted] Course was proceeding too slowly. It appears that selections must be made quite soon in order that other phases of training and placement can be carried out.

2. Lynn asked that I phone him on Monday and give him our rankings for the JOT's who have applied for the course. He is particularly interested in getting the names of those who are not considered capable of taking the course.

3. Lynn gave me the badge numbers of six men from OC #10 who, as far as we are able to do here, should be rated along side the candidates from OC #11. The badge numbers of these are:

E-122
E-131
E-134
E-111
E-123

In addition to these, we should also consider the eight names sent to us by the [redacted] Staff despite the fact that we have no assurance of availability nor any more data to go on than sent us. Lynn will phone Monday giving me any information concerning [redacted] background he is able to obtain on the six OC #10 men.

4. As early as is practicable Monday morning, you two should get your heads together in quick analysis of the application forms plus what has been learned about the applicants during the first ten weeks of OC #11. I should like to have your findings no later than 4:00 P.M. Monday. Please be sure to give me badge numbers rather than names of all those you rate.
